♥ THE CHARTWELLS WAY ♥

At Chartwells we take our responsibility of catering for today's children and young adults seriously.

We know it's not just about the food on the plate but a real understanding of health and nutrition too. That's why we developed our set of commitments called Eat, Learn, Live which outline our dedication to educating young people about how to lead a happy, safe and healthy lifestyle whilst contributing to a sustainable world.

We're committed to delighting young people with great tasting food that contributes to their wellbeing. All our menus carefully combine a mix of nutritional and tasty food that complies with government legislation. We take special care to make sure that students with special dietary needs can also enjoy our meals. All of our food is prepared fresh every day by our dedicated catering team using fresh, locally sourced ingredients.

We're committed to enhancing the understanding, fun and experience of young people by sharing with them the importance of healthy eating from a young age and giving them the knowledge they need to lead a healthy life.

Our range of educational programmes and initiatives covers every age group from "fun into food" to our nutrition smartboard, classroom sessions, gala dinners, roadshows, food survival workshops and cookery masterclasses.

We're committed to creating a safer, cleaner and more sustainable environment that supports health and wellbeing. Wherever possible we support farmer by using locally sourced food and British milk and eggs, and reduce carbon emissions through multi-temperature transportation. We strongly support Fairtrade and make sure all our fish comes from sustainable, well managed marine sources.

Does Your Child Require A Special Diet.

I have no doubt that you will have seen recent news reports around allergens. This is an issue we take extremely seriously and we understand our responsibility to the children and young people we serve.

I would like to reassure you that we are constantly reviewing our processes and systems for the management of allergens and the prevention of allergy incidents. These reviews are led by our team, which includes our Health and Safety and Food Safety Director as well as nutritionists, chefs and food allergy specialists. As a result of this regular monitoring, earlier this year we put in place a detailed allergen management plan that has been implemented across Chartwells.

One key area this includes is the development of an allergen awareness programme, to support the training that our colleagues receive in respect of allergens. This will be a continuously rolling programme, to help our people understand and manage food that contains allergens. In addition, we are constantly reviewing our recipes to remove unnecessary allergens, as well as working with our suppliers to understand which allergen ingredients they can supply us with.

Please note, it is extremely important that you inform Chartwells of any allergies/intolerances that your child has should they currently eat with Chartwells, or wish to start eating with Chartwells. We welcome all children with allergies/intolerances and providing we deem it safe to do so, an appropriate meal can be provided daily in line with our internal policies and procedures. Please see enclosed a special diet form to be completed and returned.

Please return all forms to us, along with medical evidence, and details of the school that your child attends to
